The large, dual aspect kitchen/breakfast room features patio doors giving a delightful aspect over the garden, an exposed brick pillar feature with clay pipes for wine storage, an extensive range of units and worktops and a breakfast bar. Integrated appliances include dishwasher, gas hob, extractor, electric double oven and fridge, and there is space for a further fridge-freezer. A side door leads to an integral porch, and there is a utility room with Worcester gas central heating boiler, space and plumbing for washing machine, space for tumble dryer, and door to the porch.

There are 2 ground floor double bedrooms overlooking the rear garden, both with fitted or built-in furniture, a wet room (with wash basin, WC and shower) and a spacious family bathroom (with bath, WC, wash basin, bidet and built-in shelved cupboard).

Stairs lead to a first floor landing with access to a large eaves storage cupboard (with fitted light) and there are 2 further double bedrooms.

The house is centrally positioned within its ample plot, setting it back from the village road. A spacious gravelled driveway leads through a brick pillared entrance, providing turning and parking, and leading to a further block paved parking area in front of the integral garage, which has an up-and-over door, lighting and power points.

The front garden has lawns, hedges and shrubs. At the side there is a fuel bunker for the open fire. A gate and footpath lead to the large, neatly maintained south westerly facing rear garden which is largely laid to lawn, with a hardstanding for a shed, and a range of shrubs and trees including a weeping silver birch and 3 apple trees.
